Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Ms. Fang Liu on May 24, 2004.

The application has been amended as follows:

Cancel non-elected claims 1-75, 78.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The declaration (executed on February 23, 2004) by Mr. Hibi has effectively showed that the claimed product of the instant invention behaves differently than the product of the applied references when being used in a process for producing chlorine, and this difference in behavior of the claimed product provides evidence that there is a physical difference between the claimed product and the product of the prior art.
